The Gift of a People

N the city of Burlington, on the evening of January 19, 1923, the day following the burning of the original Administration building here, Mayor Horner, of Burlington, called together in the City Hall, a meeting of the citizens to consider what might be done to help rebuild our college.

It was a cold, bleak, stormy night, but stout hearts were there, interested in the only college in Alamance County, and ready to undertake measures to help her recover from what appeared, even then, to be a staggering blow. It was during this meeting of the citizens of Burlington and of the county that the late Robert L. Holt, after several others had spoken, arose and said: "I am very sorry for Elon. I am sorry for her $5,000.00 worth, and I herewith pledge $5,000.00 to the Alamance County fund to help Elon rebuild."

Following this liberal subscription from Colonel Holt, Mr. John M. Cook, a graduate of the College, and a lawyer and business man of Burlington, moved that the Alamance County citizens undertake to raise $100,000.00, and that it erect an administration building, provided friends of the College elsewhere would raise $200,000.00 for additional improvements. This motion was unanimously adopted, and a committee consisting of Colonel Robert L. Holt, Rev. Dr. Thomas F. Opie, Colonel F. L. Williamson, Mr. O. F. Crowson, Mr. J. M. Fix, Mr. D. E. Sellars, and Rev. C. B. Riddle was appointed as a steering committee for this enterprise.

The Board of Trustees of the College met on January 24 and accepted this proposal from the citizens of the county of Alamance. Meanwhile, the county's steering committee, feeling absolutely sure that the trustees would accept their offer, had held a meeting and appointed a campaign committee to raise the $100,000.00. This committee consisted of Mr. W. E. Sharpe, chairman and general executive; Mr. W. K. Holt, Mr. J. M. Fix, Mr. O. F. Crowson, Colonel Robert L. Holt, and Dr. W. A. Harper. Mr. Sharpe, as the executive for the campaign, selected Rev. C. B. Riddle as secretary and J. M. Fix as treasurer, and the following as team captains: Mr. R. O. Browning, Mr. H. Frank Mitchell, Mr. J. G. Rogers, Mr. W. K. Holt, and Rev. C. B. Riddle. The campaign committee acted as the flying squadron to serve under the direct management of Mr. Sharpe, associating with himself Mr. R. F. Williams, Mr. J. L. Scott, and Colonel E. C. Holt.

With the energy characteristic of him, Mr. Sharpe arranged for a public meeting in the municipal building on Sunday afternoon, which was presided over by Colonel F. L. Williamson. At this time Hon. E. S. Parker, Jr., delivered an inspirational address, and Mr. Sharpe himself outlined the plan of the campaign. The people were enthusiastic and the work of raising the money began immediately.

As a consequence, life and enthusiasm were given the College in the crisis which faced it. Friends elsewhere were encouraged by the loyal support of the people, who knew the institution best, to make large and liberal contributions for the rebuilding program.

The Alamance building has been completed at a total cost of $150,000.00. It is a modern fireproof building 200 feet long, 68 feet wide, three stories high, and is especially designed for administrative and recitation purposes. It is safe to say that no college, anywhere, can boast of a more commodious administration building than the citizens of Alamance County have given their college under the leadership of the late Robert L. Holt as chairman of the steering committee, and Mr. W. E. Sharpe as the guiding genius of the campaign forces that actually raised the money.

This is the first instance in the history of North Carolina education when a county voluntarily arose as a single individual to lend its support to a stricken college. The same spirit which inspired the Alamance Regulators to strike the first blow for American liberty inspired the present descendants of those Regulators to lead in this splendid benefaction.

The students of Elon College pledge the citizens of Alamance County their solemn intention to make proper use of the magnificent gift our College has received at their hands, and we shall always hold in deep gratitude and in sincere appreciation the splendid men and women who made the Alamance building possible for our College; and, so, the rebuilding program a reality.

DEDICATION

WHEN ALAMANCE COUNTY CITIZENS NEEDED AN ORGANIZER TO MARSHAL THEIR STRENGTH TO RAISE THE MONEY FOR THE ALAMANCE BUILDING, THEY UNANIMOUSLY CHOSE MR. SHARPE.

HE IS ONE OF FELON'S TRUEST FRIENDS. THIS ANNUAL IS UNANIMOUSLY DEDICATED TO HIM AND TO ALAMANCE COUNTY IN SINCERE APPRECIATION BY THE CLASS OF 1925.

Two Years After

UR Alma Mater was chartered on March 11, 1889. Thirty-six years from that day the student body met for the first chapel service in the fifth and final building of the Greater Elon Program. It was a red-letter day for Elon when, on January 18, 1923, the sacred old administration building which, for a generation, had housed the general activities of the campus, went up in smoke. Those who witnessed the smouldering embers of that disastrous fire thought of it as a red-letter day that had buried the hopes of a generation of striving and sacrifice, but a kindly Providence and generous-hearted friends overruled, and that which portended to be the destruction of the finest and best in Elon's equipment became the beginning of a new and larger plant, not only more commodious, but likewise more efficient. So has Elon arisen, sphinx-like, out of her ashes to what promises to be a larger and a brighter future. Between the ashes of January 18, 1923, and the finished new plant upon which our eyes look in gladness today, there is written a chapter of brilliant achievement, not only in the annals of our own institution, but of higher education in our state and nation. No college has ever arisen more triumphantly out of disaster than has our mother, Elon, thanks to the generosity of the citizens of Alamance County and of the generous friends elsewhere, who have made the Greater Elon Program not merely a dream, but a true and vital reality.

In place of the hallowed old administration building with its octagonal tower, we have today, crowning the very heart of our campus, a splendid administrative group of five buildings arranged in the form of an "H." The middle portion of this "H," very properly, is the Alamance building. The southwest corner of the "H" is the Whitley Auditorium, made possible by the generous kindness of J. M. Darden, of Suffolk, Va. The southeast corner of the "H" is the Mooney Christian Education building, the gift of Mr. M. Orban, Jr., of Whittier, Calif. The Carlton Library building, the gift of Messrs. P. J., L. E., and H. A. Carlton, and Mrs. Thomas S. Parrott, occupies the northwest corner of the "H," while the northeast corner is rounded out by the Duke Science building, made possible by an initial gift of $50,000.00 for that purpose by Messrs. B. N. and J. B. Duke, who made this donation in memory of their mother, Mrs. Artelia Roney Duke, a native of Alamance County, and whose last resting place is at Haw River in a cemetery lot adjoining the grave of Mr. W. H. Trollinger, who donated the land comprising the present campus of the college.

All five of these buildings are fireproof and equipped with very latest furniture. As a recent college president said upon visiting Elon: "No small college in the United States has a finer plant than Elon." We students cannot forget, either, that Josephus Daniels recently wrote in the News and Observer that, after an automobile trip throughout the length and breadth of the state, he considered the development at Elon the most outstanding accomplishment of the past decade in North Carolina.

In addition to these five buildings and their furnishings the campus has been graded, laid out in walks and driveways, and a beautiful brick wall has been built around it with appropriate entrances and iron gateways, both for pedestrians and vehicles.

We, who issue this Annual, have seen these transformations take place, and their achievements have been to us an inspiration to undertake great enterprises in the days that lie ahead and a challenge to us to prove ourselves worthy of the intellectual mother at whose rebuilding we have been privileged during these past two fateful years to be present.

FOREWORD

TO you, the reader of this, the eleventh volume of the PHIPSICLI, we hand the 1925 copy. We have striven to make this edition a faithful record of one college year. We have tried to make this a useful and economical, as well as attractive, book. We have endeavored to make this a wholly representative book by incorporating abasement and arrogance, athletics and apathy, dodgers and doctors, flunkers and flyers, humility and haughtiness, prudes and professors, prowlers and preachers, silliness and sacredness.

If life be the enjoyment of recalling the pleasant experiences of the past, or the happy anticipation of the future, we hope that this effort of ours may bear fruit to former and future students. Sacred, we hope, will be the memories retouched by this book. May it be read by others with "justice seasoned with mercy."

Students of the college who are not members of the staff have done much to make this book a success. Friends, who had no other obligation than that of friendship, have used their talents to help us through the toiling hours. To each we mention a gratitude which will forever have to go untold.

ELON COLLEGE, N. C.

"Tricks he hath in him which gentlemen have."

If there is a hard task to be done, call on Oscar, and the completion is assured. He is not only endowed with qualities that make him a good student and an eloquent orator, but he is an athlete as well. We shall not soon forget his ability as a tennis player. Judging from Oscar's ambition, his oratorical ability, and his judicial qualifications, it seems evident that the Class of '25 will one day have a lawyer of whom she can be proud. Oscar is surely a good sport, a fine student, an excellent friend, an entertaining companion, and, with it all, a "cake-eater."

Capable, dependable, true as steel is she. We can't think of any event in our college life without thinking of our sincere and admirable Kate. She is one of the few individuals who keeps her work up to date, and you may be sure it's of a commendable variety. Still, books don't interfere with her college activities, for she takes part in everything, from yelling herself hoarse at a football game to sitting dignifiedly on the Student Council. She certainly had a fellow feeling for the unfortunate ones who were brought up, because it wasn't always easy for Kate to be good. We need more girls like Kate.

REGINA OLYN BARRETT, A.B.

Class Vice-President.

PONCE, PORTO RICO.

"A maiden never bold; of spirit still and quiet."

Delta Upsilon Kappa; Psihelia, '22, '23; Charter Member Psihaleon; Treasurer Class '21, '22; Chief Marshal Psihaleon Entertainment, '25; Pageant, '23; Vice-President, '24-'25; Giftorian, '25.

Here's a girl who says what she thinks and means what she says. If you are a friend of hers, count yourself lucky. Quiet and modest, she attends her own business and allows others the same privilege. She is a natural-born worker, and puts her whole soul into whatever she undertakes to do, and does it well. As a student she has won the respect and admiration of both faculty and students. She has a splendid mind, and is patient and accommodating in using it to help those who are less fortunate. Though seeming to be dignified and studious, yet to those who know her best, she shows her jolly side. Faithful to duty and trust, loyal and sincere to friends, we have no fear for her future.

DOROTHY LOWE, A.B.

Class Treasurer.

ELON COLLEGE, N. C.

"She hath a knowledge of both books and humankind."

Psihelia; Alameda County Club; Chief Marshal Psihelia Essayist Contest, '24; Commencement Marshal, '24; Class Treasurer, '24-'25; Chief Marshal Psihelia Entertainment, '25.

We are at a loss to know how to characterize "Dot." To begin with, she is one of those lucky mortals endowed with her share of sense. She is a good student, but she knows when to lay aside her books and enjoy other pleasures. She is a good conversationalist, but she knows when to stop talking and listen. She studies when she wants to and "spoofs" the professors the rest of the time. She is a true friend ever. French and Education are her hobbies, and when she combines her knowledge of the two, we feel sure that some school will have a good teacher.

ERNEST EDWIN SNOTHERLY, Ph.B.

ALBEMARLE, N. C.

*"A place in the ranks awaits you,
You have some part to play;
The past and the future are nothing
In the face of the stern today."*

Iota Tau Kappa; Philologist; Philologist Entertainment, '23; "Maroon and Gold" Staff, '23-'24; Associate Editor "Phipsiel," '23-'24; Commercial Class, '21-'22; Secretary Student Senate, '23-'24; Vice-President Student Senate, '25; College Band, '22, '23, '24, '25; Commencement Pageant, '23; Student Athletic Council, '25.

E. E. Snotherly, better known as "Jim, the Corn Doctor," is one of the most popular men in his class, especially with the athletes. He has won the friendship of all of them, and he is always ready to minister to their needs, whatever these needs may be. "Jim" is a friend to all, and is ever ready to do his part when there is work to be done. He has two mottoes: "Get the Elon spirit and keep it," and "Never refuse the girls anything they ask." His willing spirit and determination assure him success in life.

FRANCES SOMERVILLE McELROY, Ph.B.

GORDONVILLE, VA.

*"She's extremely conscientious,
And when there's work to do,
If Frances has a hand in it
She's sure to put it through."*

Frances is one of those sturdy, conservative individuals who has the ability to do what she wants to. She is dignified and reserved, but underneath the exterior there is a vein of humor that only her friends know of and appreciate. She joined our class just this year, and we can't predict what her possible career will be, but we are confident that she can make it what she will. As a librarian, Frances has been of invaluable assistance to the Librarian, and she will doubtless serve many others in the world outside the college portals.

CLARENE ELIZABETH LINCOLN, A.B.

BROADWAY, VA.

"A miniature of loveliness, with culture and grace Summed up and mirrored in a beautiful face."

Delta Upsilon Kappa; Psihellen; Psihellen Marshal, Psihellen Entertainment, '23; Charter Member Psykaleon; Psykaleon Entertainment, '24, '25; Class Historian, '22; Vice-President Class, '23.

We are grateful to Virginia for sending us this bright-eyed little miss from the Shenandoah Valley. Enthusiastic, fine-spirited, pretty, attractive in every sense of the word, the very essence of refinement, the best we can say of her is not good enough. Her every deed is tempered with common sense as well as impulsiveness. She is a clear thinker and a whole-hearted lover. Whatever "Abe" does, she does well, and her enthusiasm and loyalty have been an indispensable part of every class or college contest. She can face philosophically and overcome any difficult situation that may arise, and we know that she can and will succeed. We only ask that fate give her as much as she deserves.

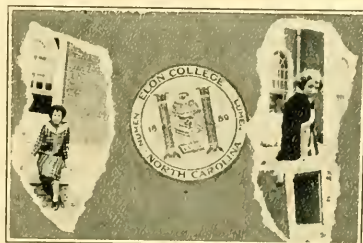

RUBY WILCOX ATKINSON, A.B.

DENDRON, VA.

*"Rare compound of quality, noble and true,
With plenty of sense and good humor, too."*

Delta Upsilon Kappa; Psihellen, '22, '23; Charter Member Psykaleon; Palette and Brush Club; Psykaleon Entertainment, '24, '25; Virginia Club; Class Historian, '25; Certificate in Art, '24; Diploma in Art, '25.

If we had to describe "Jew Baby" in one word, we should possibly say "attractive." Or, should we say lovable, competent, stylish, sensible, or enviable? We could surely say all of them and tell the truth. "Jew Baby" simply surpasses description. She is an artist, a friend, an entertainer, anything of quality you can think of. Whether we see her playing the star role in a society entertainment, as president of her society, in class, or in the midst of a social group, there is where she seems to belong. Originality isn't lacking, and charm is surely present. Ruby, when you leave Elon you will take our hearts with you, and our hopes that you may enjoy life's best.

LILLIAN GERTRUDE HARRELL, Ph.B.

100 SOUTH BROAD ST., SUFFOLK, VA.

*"In her utmost lightness there is truth,
And often she speaks lightly;
Has grace in being gay which even Mournful souls approve."*

Delta Upsilon Kappa; Psihellen; Charter Member of Psykadeon; Football Sponsor, '22; Marshal Freshman-Sophomore Debate, '23; Psihellen Entertainment, '23; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '23-'24; Glee Club, '23-'24; Psykadeon Entertainment, '24-'25; Certificate in Domestic Art, '25; Church Choir, '23-'24; Testorian.

Loyal and true, sympathetic and tolerant, possessed of firm convictions of her own—that's Lillian. Style always attracts her eye. She has always attracted attention by her splendid acting in society plays. Leadership is a quality that she possesses in abundance, but there is something else that we would envy her even more for possessing, if her personality did not forbid our envying anything her common sense. Lillian is a sure proof that a woman can be practical while she is romantic. Her friends are many, as was attested by the fact that she was unanimously chosen president of the Student Council. Lillian has many traits that are sure to spell success for her.

MARGARET LANE ROWLAND, A.B.

GREENSBORO, N. C.

*"A smile for all, a greeting glad,
A lovable, jolly way she had."*

Delta Upsilon Kappa; Psihellen; Commencement Cantata, '22-'23; Virginia Club, '22-'23; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '22-'23; Class Secretary, '23-'24; Psihellen Entertainment, '24-'25; "Phipsi" Staff, '25; Glee Club, '23-'24.

A rare combination of wit, humor, sense, and stability, with the quality of looking on the bright side of life, together with the most admirable of traits, that of being a true friend—that's Margaret. Those who know her best, love her best, and know that she is capable of attaining the goal toward which her highest ambitions mount. Her patience and idealism will carry her safely over life's rough places, and, come what may, we are expecting much of Margaret.

ANNIE MAE LACKEY, A.B.

FALLSTON, N. C.

*"I good, true friend, and jolly pal,
Whimsical, witty, and wise;
A lovable, playful, active girl,
Makes good at all she tries."*

Phi Kappa Tau; Psi Phi, '22, '23; Charter Member Psi Kappa; Dramatic Club, '22, '25; Secretary Sunday School Class, '23; Delegate Y. W. C. A. Convention, '23; Member Methodist Protestant Club; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '25; Student Council, '24; Secretary Methodist Protestant Club, '25; Psi Kappa Entertainment, '24, '25; Marshal Peace Contest, '25; Certificate in Physical Culture, '25; Vice-President Religious Activities Association, '25.

"Lackey" came to college ready to work, enjoy, and employ profitably four years of college life. She has kept her purpose, and, upheld by high and worthy ideals, she has gone a long way towards reaching the poet's ideal, "a perfect woman, nobly planned." She has made a great many friends each year, and her friendships are of the invaluable kind that time strengthens. She realizes the value of the social side of college life, hence her name is found associated with many college activities. Good luck to you, "Lackey," and may your future life be a repetition of the successes that have been yours during your college career.

ROBERT WADE UTLEY, Ph.B.

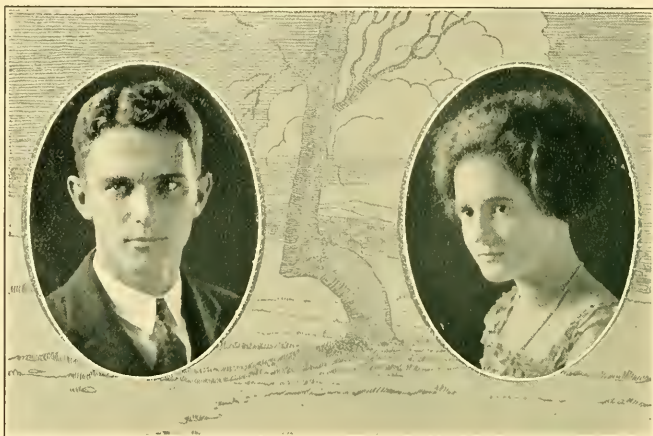

MONCURE, N. C.

*"I say, haunt thou not me,
Thou vain philosophy."*

Kappa Psi Nu; Philologist; Marshal, '23; Student Senate, '23, '24; President Sunday School Class; Usher, '25; Junior Representative for the Philologist Society, '24; President Student Senate, '25.

"I'm in favor of giving the country back to the Indians" is a favorite expression of "Bob's" when things go wrong. Sometimes we believe he is sincere in this, for he is such a lover of nature that he would like nothing better than roaming through the great out-of-doors, unmolested by the conventions of civilization. But with all these "savage" tendencies, "Bob" is a real man. He has made many friends among the students, and when anything is to be done we can always count on his help. He is interested in all activities of the college—even in social hour sometimes. As president of the Student Senate, he has won the respect and admiration of the whole student body in directing its affairs.

WALTER CLIFTON ELDER, A.B.

BURLINGTON, N. C.

"Born for success he seemed, with grace to win, with heart to hold, with shining gifts that took all eyes."

Iota Tau Kappa; Clio; Track, '22-'23; Class Baseball, '23; Vice-President Burlington Club, '23; Class Debater, '23; Clio Entertainers, '22-'23-'24-'25; Vice-President Almanac Club, '24; Vice-President Class, '24-'25; Varsity Football, '24-'25; Letter Men's Club, '24-'25; Secretary and Treasurer of Letter Men's Club, '25; Class Football, '25; Business Manager "Maroon and Gold," '24; President Almanac Club, '25; Athletic Editor of Annual, '25; Pan-Hellenic Council Representative, '25.

"Cliff" is an all-round good fellow. He has a jovial disposition, and a smile that will not wear off. He is a friend to all, and when there is any work to be done, you can count on him, for he never shirks. "Cliff" has served as an officer of the class in several capacities, and has represented it in a debate. He is not only an orator, and literarily inclined, but he is at home on a sofa or an athletic field. He has been a credit to the teams on which he has played, and an honor to the class and college. With these supreme qualities as a leader, we predict that he will fill a great place in the world.

ROSE HOWELL, A.B.

CANDOR, N. C.

*"Good-natured and generous, jolly and clever,
Her tongue, like a brooklet, goes on forever."*

A.; "Maroon and Gold" Reporter, '24; Psykaleon Commencement Essayist, '24; Class Prophet, '25; President Psykaleon Entertainment, '25; Finance Chairman Y. W. C. A., '25; Social Editor "Phipsicli," '25.

Radiating with color and life and youth from head to foot, Rose is one of the most vivid figures on the campus. Though she is the baby of the class, in stature as well as in years, she is also one of its sages, and her reports present an almost unbroken array of 95's. Still, no one ever accused Rose of being a book-worm. Active in all phases of college life, literary, musical, and social, she has the finer touch of the dreamer, while at the same time she is one of the best sports in college. She has already acquired a reputation as a writer, critic, and master of good English, and it is predicted that the career of "writer" will be hers.

THELMA EDITH CATES, A.B.

HAW RIVER, N. C.

*"To any class, of any kind,
She'd be an acquisition;
She's amiable to everyone—
It's just her disposition."*

Psiphelian; Alumnance Club.

"Once a friend, always a friend," may be truly said of Thelma. Loyalty to people whom she loves is one of her chief characteristics. Quiet, but competent, she has proved herself to be a diligent student by the four years of Latin that she has mastered. Since she is a day-student, she is not with us much, but we are convinced that Thelma is a very conscientious girl who never shirks a duty. She seems able to face any baffling situation, undisturbed; and we truly believe that her every effort will be crowned by success.

DURANT YORK BRANNOCK, A.B.

ELON COLLEGE, N. C.

"Short in stature, but long in all that goes to make a likable fellow."

Alpha Pi Delta; Football Squad, '21, '22, '24; Track Team, '21, '22, '24; Cross-Country Team, '20, '21, '22, '24; Philologist Literary Society; "E" Men's Club, '21, '22, '23, '24.

York is an agreeable fellow, all of us are willing to admit. Did he ever refuse to do anything he was asked to? We believe not. His chief interests are centered in chemistry and track, and he gives his best to both of them. His chemical propensities he inherited from his father, and he bids fair to become as expert as his father is. In track, he made his letter in the long distance run. May he win the races of life with equal ease. Is '25's sincere wish for this sincere youngster.

HUBERT LEE ISLEY, A.B.

BURLINGTON, N. C.

*"To thine own self be true,
And then it follows as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man."*

Ministerial Association; M. P. Club; Alamaance Club; Chaplain Alamaance Club.

Mr. Isley is one of our most highly esteemed ministerial students. He seems to have been truly molded for a preacher. Being a day student he has not been intimately associated with us, and has been deprived of many of the privileges of the class; but he has profited much by his own diligent and persevering study. His attitude is one of friendliness to everybody, and we have found him ready to do his part in whatever we have proposed to him. Mr. Isley is considerate at all times, studious, too, and a friend to anyone in need. There is always room at the top for men like him.

MAMIE ILA SOCKWELL, A.B.

NORTH WILKESBORO, N. C.

*"To those who know thee not,
No word can paint;
And to those who know thee,
All words are faint."*

Psephellan; Secretary of Sunday School Class, '23; Commencement Pageant, '23; Student Council, '23-'24; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '23-'24, '24-'25; Student Volunteer Convention, Indianapolis, '24; Dramatic Club, '23-'24; Blue Ridge Conference, '24; Psephellan Entertainment, '24; President Sunday School Class, '25; Shakespearean Play by Expression Class, '25.

You may think that Mamie is dignified, exclusive—she looks so—but watch her. She knows the art of making friends, but better than this, she knows how to keep them, for there is no truer friend than Mamie. She is a girl who will always tell us the right thing to do. We are proud of her as one of our most loyal classmates, for she is always willing to help in anything we undertake. Wherever fortune may lead her, we surely predict a path of sunshine and happiness.

RUBY E. ROWLAND, A.B.

RALEIGH, N. C.

*"I truer, nobler, truster heart,
More loving or more loyal, never
Beat within human breast."*

Tau Zeta Phi; Delegate to S. V. C., '22; Delegate to Blue Ridge, '24; Student Council, '23-'24; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '23-'24; Class Post, '23-'24; Christian Endeavor Group Leader, '23-'24; Psihellen Marshal, '24; Cantata, '24; Religious Activities Cabinet, '24-'25; Pan-Hellenic Council, '25; Y. W. C. A. President, '24-'25; Religious Editor "Phipsieli," '25; Delegate to Christian Convention, '23; Marshal at Entertainment, '24; Psihellen Entertainment, '25; Shakespearean Play by Expression Class, '25.

"Billy" is one of the finest combinations of true nobility, true likability, and true reliability that we have ever known. She possesses an enviable personality, a gracious manner, and a mind that she knows how to put to good use. After she has done her school work, and her work as president of Y. W., she still has time to enjoy life. She is not big in inches, but she is big in mind and heart, and has an inexhaustible good nature. She is the best pal ever, a girl who can be most efficient and serious when occasion demands, yet a gay, charming friend to all of us.

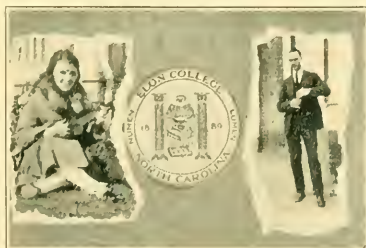

SHEFFIELD H. ABELL, A.B.

RICHLAND, GA.

"What is a man if he is not a mystery?"

Kappa Psi Nu; Chio; Chio Entertainment, '21; Student-Teacher Association, '21; Treasurer Student Senate, '23-'24; Chio Commencement Medal, '24; Chio Entertainment, '21; Sunday School Teacher, '24; Chief Marshal Emory and Henry Debate, '24; Chief College Usher, '24-'25; Superintendent College Sunday School, '24-'25; Chairman Religious Study Course Committee, '24-'25; Editor "Phipsieli," '25; Religious Activities Organization, '24-'25.

Abell, as you might expect, is from Georgia. He is noted for his originality, and his peculiar way of transferring himself from one place to another. As superintendent of the Sunday school, "Deacon" has demonstrated his ability in leadership both by precept and example. To those who know—or, rather, see—him daily, he is something of a riddle, a rather queer fellow, but unquestionably a man of tremendous power and ability. To those whose rare fortune it has been to know the man somewhat intimately, he is a dreamer of beautiful dreams, with a powerful, practical mind that makes his dreams worthwhile; a constant inspiring friend, who believes just firmly enough in himself and his ideals; a man that will leave a clear, deep mark on the sands of time, and a better world for his having lived in it.

KATHERINE DORIS MCLEAN, A.B.

GIBSONVILLE, N. C.

*"For never saw I mien or face
In which more plainly I could trace
Benignity and home-bred sense
Reposing in perfect innocence."*

Ψsiphellian; Ψsiphellian Entertainment, '24; Marshal Ψsiphellian Entertainment, '25; Sponsor of "Maroon and Gold," '25.

Excellent in scholarship, faithful in duty, reserved in disposition, unaffected and kind in manner, is Doris to a "T." She loves and trusts people, and likes to help them; she finds the world a splendid place, and faces it very optimistically. What is Doris interested in, anyway? Well, a great many things, but most in sewing, the Ψsiphellian Society, and preachers. Where will she fit in? Just anywhere, but best in a well-equipped kitchen where she can employ her skill in cooking. She is surely a sweet, lovable girl, in whom we find the trust of friends.

WILLIAM BROWN TERREL, A.B.

C. Collegiate Press Assembly, '25; President Religious Activities Organization, '25; President Democratic Club, '24-'25; Member Alumnus Club, '25; Class Basketball, '25; Member Booster Club, '25. And how shall we remember "Bill"? As a debater, as editor of "Maroon and Gold," as class president, or as an ardent lover, whistling under "her" window? His studiousness and sincerity have made a deep impression on us.

MARGARET L. CORBITT, B.Mus.
SUNBURY, N. C.

*"The light of love, the purity of grace,
The mind, the music, breathing from her face."*

Charter Member Psi-kaleon; Psi-phelian; Tennis Sponsor, '22; Pageant, '23; Cantata, '22; Glee Club; College Choir, '23, '24, '25; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '25; Certificate in Piano and Voice, '24; Dramatic Club, '24; Psi-kaleon Entertainment, '24, '25; Diploma in Voice, '25; Marshal Peace Contest, '25; Secretary Music Lovers' Club, '25.

Can we count the times Margaret "Bob" has delighted and soothed us with her singing and piano playing? Not only is she one of our musical seniors, but she has so many other good qualities and sterling characteristics that there isn't space to enumerate them here. We will carry away a series of unfading pictures of her in her various moods, and we will be glad to remember her in all of them. If you happen to be a friend of Margaret's you are lucky indeed, for she is willing to do much for a friend. To see her isn't to know her, but to know her is to love her, and the Class of '25 is glad it has had the privilege.

ARCHIE IRA BRAXTON, Ph.B.
SNOW CAMP, N. C.

"A pillar steadfast in a storm."

Sigma Phi Beta; Philologist; Varsity Football, '22, '23, '24; Vice-President "E" Men's Club, '24; President "E" Men's Club, '25; Chief Marshal Philologist Entertainment, '24; Class Baseball, '22, '23, '24, '25; Class Basketball, '22, '23, '24, '25; Captain-elect Football, '25; Alumnus Club; Vice-President Alumnus Club, '25.

"Brack" is a real gridiron warrior. Whenever he enters the fray his opponent usually gets a frailing. He has won by himself, by his athletic fighting qualities, a place in Elon's history that will be difficult to fill. "Brack" is slow and determined, but congenial, and there is something besides his stately figure that makes him popular with the opposite sex. We can back up "his line," however, and away from the stage of folly you will find him sincere and earnest. His disposition is full of genial warmth, and he knows and fully appreciates the value of a man.

JESSE H. DOLLAR, A.B.

ROANOKE, ALA.

"High erected thoughts seated in the heart of courtesy."

Kappa Psi Nu; Philologist Annual Entertainment, '21, '22, '23-'24; Religious Activities Organization, '22, '23, '25; "Maroon and Gold" Staff, '23-'24; Student Senate, '24-'25; President Ministerial Association, '24-'25; "Phippsicli" Staff, '25; Manager Young Men's Club, '23-'24, '24-'25; Boosters' Club Quartet, '24.

Dollar is a young minister of fine ideals and noble purpose. Although he permitted a fair damsel to entice him into matrimony during our sophomore year, he continued his college work with no abatement of enthusiasm and success. Since he came to Elon he has taken part in manifold activities, and been entrusted with numerous responsibilities, but he has always kept before him his original ideal of scholarship. Evangelical singing would gladly have claimed him for her own, but he chose the nobler work of carrying the good news, and we know that he will be heard gladly.

CHIYO ITO, A.B.

SATOGAKI, KOFEE, YAMANASKI-KEN, JAPAN.

*"Chiyo is an idealist, Chiyo is a dear,
And the world is a whole lot better

Psiphidian; Delegate to S. V. Convention, '21, '23; Petite and Brush Club, '22, '23; Pageant, '23; Delegate to Blue Ridge, '22, '24; Certificate in Art, '23; Diploma in Art, '24; Psiphidian Entertainment, '24; Art Editor "Phippsicli," '25; Diploma in Physical Education, '25; Dramatic Club, '25.

Chiyo came to us from Japan, but her nationality has not prevented her from being popular here, for she is one of our most dependable, studious, and likable girls. She leaves a path of sunshine wherever she goes, and she is a good sport. Chiyo's chief ambition is to be a missionary and an artist. We can hope for nothing better for her than that she will handle the materials for a successful life as well as she handles the paint brush. We also hope that her career as a missionary may be successful.

MARY LEE FOSTER, A.B.

ELON COLLEGE, N. C.

*"The voice so sweet, the word so fair
As some soft chime had stroked the air."*

Delta Upsilon Kappa; Psi-Phellian, '22, '23; Charter Member Psi-kal-son; Psi-Phellian Annual Entertainment, '23; Psi-kal-son Annual Entertainment, '24, '25; Commencement Cantata, '22; Pageant, '23; Glee Club, '24; Virginia Club, '22, '23, '24; Secretary Christian Endeavor, '23; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '24, '25; Secretary Student Council, '24; Proctor West Dormitory, '24; Class Historian, '24; Christmas Cantata, '24; Church Choir, '23, '24, '25; 'Phippsicli' Staff, '25; Pan-Hellenic Council, '25.

To those who do not know her, the name will mean but little; but to us who have been intimately associated with her, the name of Mary Lee brings to mind an old song, "The Sunshine of Your Smile." Mary Lee is one of those rare creatures who can make friends wherever she goes—hosts of them, too. She is enabled to do this by a striking personality and a rich and marvelous voice. She is always happy, and extremely good-natured (possibly on account of her size). Anyway, Mary Lee is one of Elon's most splendid girls. The Class of '25 is proud of her, and predicts for her a brilliant future.

LEON V. WATSON, A.B.

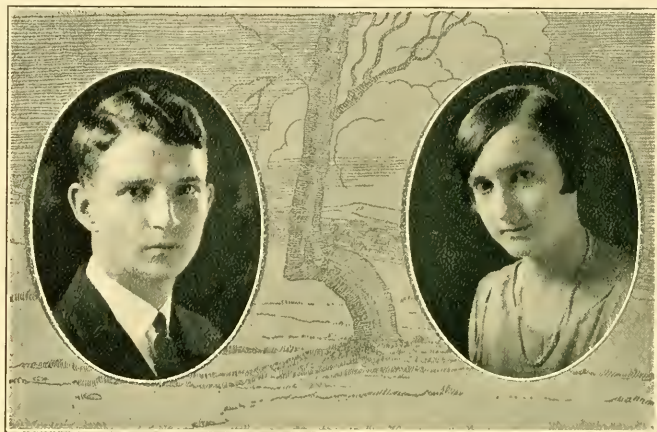

KENLY, N. C.

*"Staunch, firm, and grateful,
A friend, a pal, a man."*

Kappa Psi Nu; Chio; President Y. M. C. A., '25; Treasurer Student Senate, '25; Chio Entertainment, '24-'25; Chief Marshal; Class Baseball, '23; Class Basketball, '24-'25; Assistant Business Manager 'Phippsicli,' '25; Commercial Class, '24; Marshal Chio Orators' Contest, '24; Religious Activities Cabinet, '25; Certificate in Bookkeeping.

"Doc" came to us from Kenly, but his four years here have proved to us that a big fellow may come from a little town. In his classes he is an outstanding worker; big-hearted, and always willing to lend a helping hand. "His heart leaps up" when he hears the echo of the social hour bell. His gentle ways and gratifying smiles assist him in making him a favorite with the women. Possessing all the great qualities with which he is endowed, the world may lavish or must yield success to him.

JOHN NEWMAN DENTON, A.B.

MCRAE, GA.

"I don't object to a man's crowing if he has the spurs to back it with."

Kappa Psi Nu; Philologist; Philologist Oratorical Contest, '22, '24; Philologist Entertainment, '24, '25; College Band, '22, '24, '25; Band Director, '25; Tennis Team, '24, '25; Orchestra, '22, '24, '25; Advertising Manager "Maroon and Gold," '24; Intercollegiate Debater, '24, '25; Class Basketball, '24, '25; Certificate in Chemistry, '25; Business Manager 1925 "Phippsicli."

Denton has the spurs. To say more, we do not know how. It has been said of this aspiring youth that he has not been lacking in the crowing, either. Denton is a wizard chemist. He is the saturated solvent itself, and a firm believer in and applier of concentration. His charming oratorical powers have influenced many—one at the time—to make practical his theory of concentration. If it is a deed of class loyalty, or of college spirit, or of intricate complexity, or of balancing equations, or of measuring angles, or of raising funds, or of locksmithing, or of taming the wild "feminae," or of blasting a trumpet, this versatile young man can and will do it. Here's to dependable, doing, dreaming, deeming Denton.

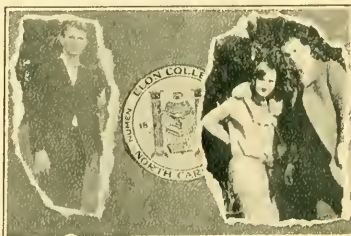

BESSIE BEALE MARTIN, A.B.

SUFFOLK, VA.

*"The heart whose softness harmonized the whole,
And oh, that eye was in itself a soul!"*

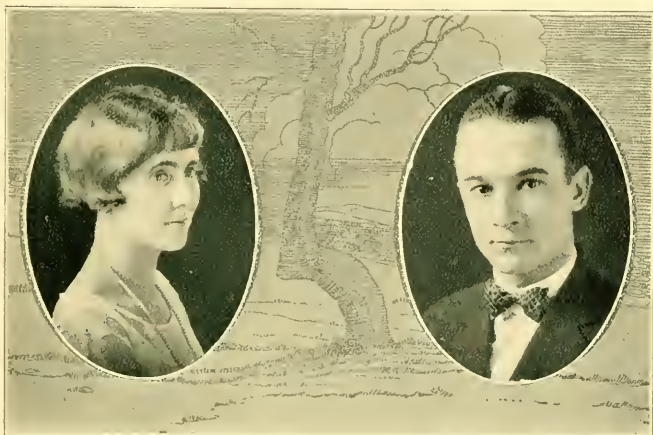

Tau Zeta Phi; Psihellen; Vice-President of Y. W. C. A. Council, '23; Delegate to Y. W. C. A., '23-'24; Class Treasurer, '23-'24; Secretary Sunday School, '24-'25; Psihellen Entertainment, '24; Psihellen Commencement Essayist, '24; Secretary Y. W. C. A., '24-'25; Summerbell Scholarship, '24-'25.

Loyal and dependable, full of pep and energy, yes; modest and reserved, too, is Bessie. The Class of '25 has honored her many services from year to year. Bessie's classmates have found that to know her is to love and admire her. She has benefited herself by being a Psihellen, and has likewise been interested in the spiritual welfare of the students as secretary of Y. W. C. A. She has acquired much knowledge here which, folded away in her fertile brain, she will take out into the larger world to be wisely applied. We are proud of her, and our good wishes go with her, for we know that, whatever course she may pursue, fortune will favorably reward her efforts.

BERTHA IRENE ISLEY, Ph.B.

BURLINGTON, N. C.

*"Honesty is her daily creed
In every act and thought and deed."*

Treasurer Commercial Class, '21-'22.

Bertha is one of our day students. She is an all-round girl, and wherever you find Bertha, you are sure to find cheer and happiness. She is quiet and dependable and a good student, working willingly and earnestly at anything that is put before her. Nor is she lacking in attractiveness; she is neat at all times, and the clearness of the blue eyes, and the softness of her blonde hair, add to her appearance. Her charming personality wins all whom she desires for friends, and we predict that it will enable her to attract success to herself, and win a noteworthy place in the world.

FERRY LEE GIBBS, A.B.

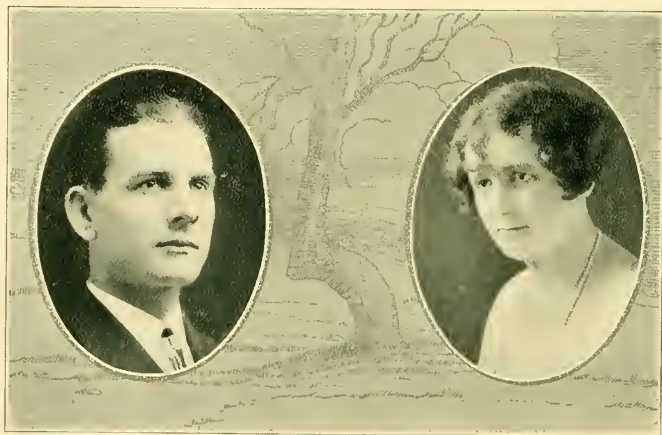

BURLINGTON, N. C.

*"As straight as an arrow,
Upright as the best;
Give him a chance
And he'll do the rest."*

Alpha Pi Delta; Local Alumni Secretary; Philologist; Philologist Orator's Medal, '24; Freshman-Sophomore Debater, '23; Triangular Intercollegiate Debater, '24; Secretary and Treasurer of Religious Activities Organization, '24; President of Christian Endeavor, '25; Treasurer Ministerial Association, '24; Methodist Protestant Club, '22, '25; Track Team, '22, '25; Special Gym Team, '24, '25; Tennis, '25; Class Basketball Team, '22, '23, '24, '25; Sub-Varsity, '23; Boosters' Club, '25; Athletic Council; Field Representative, '25; Shakespeare Play, '25.

Ferry Lee, a former member of the Class of '26, came to us in the fall of '24. He has been a prominent figure in college life, and has been repeatedly honored by his Alma Mater while he has been in pursuit of the knowledge she affords. He is a man of great ability, possesses a keen mind, is congenial, and generous. He has proved himself well adapted to the many activities in which he has engaged. Energetic and always ready for the next thing that turns up, he's the same Ferry Lee wherever you see him—on the campus, in his room, today, tomorrow; good-natured, optimistic, looking for the best in everything.

G. LEON WILLIAMS, Ph.B.
GODWIN, N. C.

*"Though a lover of the ladies,
In love he's never been;
He's a singer and an actor,
And can shake a wicked shin."*

Iota Tau Kappa; Philologist; Philologist Entertainment, '22, '23, '24; Dramatic Club, '22, '23, '24; Mask and Wig, '25; Glee Club, '21-'22; Commencement Pageant, '24; Assistant Circulation Manager "Maroon and Gold," '22.

"Chop Suey," as he is known on the hill, is a man of sterling qualities and of high calibre. The biggest fault we find with him is his adoration of women. He takes great delight in entertaining those here on the hill and in the rural section thereof. His bass voice is one of his most valuable assets, and we predict for him a successful career as a soloist, an actor, or an elocutionist. And some day, in the halls of fame, one will see inscribed with the names of Caruso, McCormack, Paderewski, and others the illustrious name, "Chop Suey."

NETTIE IRENE HARRIS, A.B.
MACON, N. C.

*"Happy am I, from care I'm free,

Psiphelian; Pageant, '23; Member Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '25; Member Student Council, '25; Psiphelian Entertainment, '25; Marshal Peace Contest, '25.

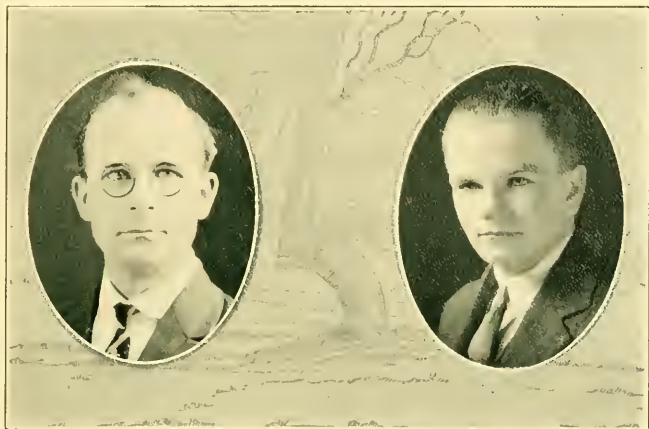

Nettie is one of '25's good sports. Studies have a habit of bothering her just enough to enable her to get along with them. She believes whole-heartedly in having a good time, yet when there's work to be done for the class she is ready and willing to do her part. To her friends and her class she is ever loyal and true. She tells that she wishes to be a primary supervisor, and with her enduring patience and lovable disposition we prophesy for the fulfillment of her highest ambitions. Here's to you, "old scout," friend, classmate, and pal, a long, merry life, full of happiness.

EMORY M. CARTER, Ph.B.

WADLEY, ALA.

"Truth from his lips prevails with double sway."

Philologist; Philologist Commencement Orator, '07; Philologist Entertainment, '06; Ministerial Association; Marshal Commencement, '07; Delegate to World's Missionary Crusade, Y. M. C. A., '06.

Carter decided once that married life was more desirable than a college degree, but he later decided that the degree was necessary, too. He decided, furthermore, that our college is a pretty good place, and that the Class of '25 was as good as could be found to graduate with. He came back to Elon at Christmas of our last year, therefore we have not had time to learn all of his admirable traits; but he has impressed us with his clear thinking and his fearlessness and frankness of expression. He takes his work as a minister seriously, and will doubtless make a success of it.

CHAS. WELLONS DUNN, Ph.B.

PACES, VA.

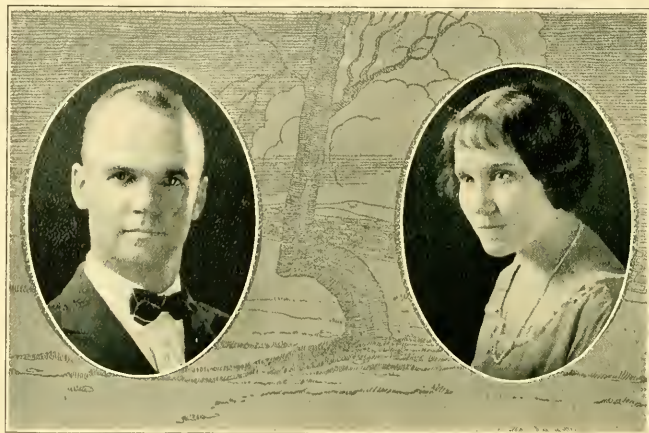

*"His quiet ways and faithful work
Are sermons strong to those who shirk."*

Cllo; Cllo Entertainment, '24-'25; Class Basketball, '23.

"Uncle Wellons" is one of those students who does his work in a quiet, unassuming way; slow, sometimes, but always to be relied upon. One of the finest compliments we can pay him is that he never expects more of others than he is willing to do himself. A task of his is never slighted. He has pluck and persistence, and you can't down a person with these two qualities. He has a way of doing things well that he thinks worth doing at all, and the chief fault we find with him is that he would not hurry with the mail for the girls.

GEORGE ARVEY PEARCE, A.B.
YOUNGVILLE, N. C.

*"The pride of young men is in their strength;
The glory of old men in their bald heads."*

Cllo Literary Society; Three years in 'Choir.

Behold a versatile member of the Class of '25! We have one member of the class whose ability in many things is seldom surpassed and rarely equaled. "G. A." as we usually call him, is a student, a singer, a preacher, a track man, and a barber. Whatever he undertakes, he employs his best effort to finish creditably, and he nearly always succeeds. His talent in imitating negro dialect in songs is especially marked. He has chosen the ministry as a promising field in which to labor, and we are sure that he will do a splendid and noble work.

SALLIE MAE OLIVER, A.B.
CEDAR GROVE, N. C.

*"Success is sure to be
To one so faithful as she."*

Phi Kappa Tau, Psiaphellan; "Maroon and Gold" Staff, '23-'24; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '24-'25; Psiaphellan Essayist Medal, '24; Pan-Hellenic Council, '24-'25.

Sweet, gentle, and demure is Sallie Mae—a conscientious, hard-working scholar. She is always sincere, whether she is studying a serious lesson, Latin, or participating in our good times. She is an admirable girl, and one who is worthy of the love and esteem which we have bestowed upon her. She is one of a type that one does not find every day, a girl whom you have to know to understand and appreciate. Whether in misfortune or in gladness, Sallie Mae always wears a cheering smile.

MARY LEE WILLIAMS, Ph.B.

EMMA LOUISE WATKINS, A.B.

WINDSOR, VA.

"A girl whom all will love because they must."

Delta Upsilon Kappa; Psihphelian, '22, '23; Charter Member Psihaleon; Secretary of Class, '22, '23; Chief Marshal Psihaleon Entertainment, '24; Psihaleon Entertainment, '25; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '24, '25; Pageant, '23; Psihaleon Commencement Essayist, '24; President Dramatic Club, '24, '25; Virginia Club.

Mary, sincere, sympathetic, and vivacious, came to us from Virginia. Say what you will, Mary Lee's heart is all right. Although she goes supinely on, never seeming to be hasty, she gets her work done on time, and when it's done, it's done right. She is endowed with a cheerful disposition and a pleasant manner, and sense (?) Oh, yes, there's lots and lots of it under that big mass of light, fluffy hair. She uses it in an unassuming way, and astonishes us with the result. Mary's just one of those teeny-weeny mortals whose characteristics of charm, grace and culture, whose lovable and sympathetic disposition, whose unselfishness and sincerity, prove her to be a real friend, and we love her.

*"An intellect of highest worth,
A heart of purest gold."*

Delta Upsilon Kappa; Psihaleon Literary Society; Psihaleon Entertainment, '24-'25; Class Poet.

Louise joined our class in our junior year, and she has been an invaluable addition in every way. She has always excelled in the difficult subjects, Math and Chemistry, and is a splendid student in any course. Aside from this, Louise is true-blue—an unselfish pal, a jolly good sport, ever ready for work or play with the "gang," a wonderful friend. In fact, you would have to look a long time before finding many girls of her inestimable worth. Here's wishing you, Louise, the best that life can offer. You deserve it. You're fine through and through.

From a Senior's Diary

Sept. 5, 1921. Freshmen have arrived on the hill. We are of all sizes, weights and temperaments, and we have assembled from all parts of the world. We have started getting acquainted, and the sophomores impress me as being unusually anxious to know our names, habits, and social status. Most of us will sleep soundly, knowing that we have paid our "radiator" fees and, this early, are prepared for the winter. The impressions of the college plant, buildings, etc., are so vivid that they do not need to be recorded for future reference.

Sept. 6, 1921. We paid the Bursar $15, so that we might enjoy all the privileges of an Elonite.

Sept. 8, 1921. The faculty reception. We have made our debut and expect to be whirled headlong into the social life of Elon.

Sept. 9, 1921. The long anticipated day for "social hour" finally arrived. Promptly at 3 p. m. the "cow bell" summoned the young men to the girls' dormitories. Strange to say, but tonight I don't see so many homesick girls.

Sept. 16, 1921. Mamie Sockwell refuses all dates, because she is living true to the "Beau Brummel" she left behind.

Sept. 19, 1921. Student Government meeting. According to Student Government by-laws, girls are compelled to express dogs, cats, and other firearms home at once.

Sept. 25, 1921. Doris and "Bill" socialize.

Nov. 1, 1921. The Class of '25 has been organized, with John Smith as president. "Onward" is our motto; brown and gold, our class colors.

Nov. 7, 1921. Lillian Harrell has first date with her "beautiful darling."

Dec. 18, 1921. Leave for Christmas holidays. Home, sweet home!

Jan. 3, 1922. Back again. A few of our members have fallen by the wayside.

Jan. 25, 1922. Lose basketball championship to juniors.

CLASS HISTORIAN.

Last Will and Testament of '25

E, the undersigned, known officially as the Class of '25 of Elon College, Alamance County, North Carolina, having reached the point in college life of advanced seniority, realizing the uncertainties of life and fortune, and being of sound and sane mind, do in this, our last will and testament, will and bequeath our college properties, belongings, and chattels, as follows:

SECTION I.

Article I. We do will and bequeath to Dr. W. A. Harper all of our hot air, steam, gas, and vim that is left after four years' work at Elon.

SECTION II.

Article I. Leon Williams, in all good faith, wills and bequeaths to Miss Savage his refinement, soft, sweet voice, and beautiful table manners.

Article II. Chiyo Ito bequeaths her sentimental disposition to Elsie Jones. May Elsie's attitude of dislike toward men vanish quickly.

Article III. Annie Mae Lackey leaves her ever-present smile and genial disposition to Hazel Knott (she surely needs it).

Article IV. Clarene Lincoln wills and bequeaths her babyish, coquettish, and pretty ways to Mary Tom Hughes.

Article V. With a breaking heart E. E. Snotherly bequeaths his position as "corn doctor" to "Flossie" McLeod.

Article VI. Emma Louise Watkins does hereby will and bequeath her ability of getting along with "Puck" to Rosebud Kimball.

Article VII. Rev. Isley and Mr. Abell will their vocabulary of slang to any successors—that is, if they can be found.

Article VIII. Mary Lee Williams and Kate Strader regret the fact that they must part with their feather bed mattress, but realizing that they cannot take it through life with them, are forced to will it to Emma Morgan.

Article IX. After due consideration, "Bill" Terrell leaves his striking and marvelous figure to Finley Thomas, to enable the latter to pose more gracefully and effectively for "Easter Greetings."

Article X. Nettie Harris wills to Julia Clem her privilege of having a first cousin on every athletic team that arrives on the hill.

Article XI. His ability to criticize, and his decided views, Robert Wade Utley leaves to David Browne Harrell, with the hope that it will get Mr. Harrell through college as it has him.

Article XII. To Miss Marie Nobles a volume of books on "How to Be a Flapper and Vamp" is bequeathed by Sallie Mae Oliver and Thelma Cates.

Article XIII. Jesse Dollar willingly and anxiously thrusts upon Mary Addie White Mrs. Dollar's rolling pin. The same to be used hereafter as heretofore.

Article XIV. Rose Howell wills her extensive and inexhaustible vocabulary to Mae Oliver and Ida Lewis Capps, hoping that they will use the words with impunity and keep out of all precarious positions.

Article XV. "Mary Lee" Gibbs leaves an ample supply of powders, paints, perfumes, and other toilet articles to "Pussy Foot."

Article XVI. Kate Strader bestows her sweet and angelic disposition on Ruth Kimball.

Article XVII. Wellons Dunn, who took "Mt. Woodie's" place as mail carrier, has broken the world's speed record. In order that this record of delivering mail may not be spoiled, he leaves his position to "Mt. Woodie, Jr."

Article XVIII. Braxton and Watson will and bequeath their oratorical ability to Archie Farmer. It has been rumored that Archie will run for governor of New York in the next election.

Article XIX. Margaret "Bob" Corbitt and Olyn Barrett will their ability to play poker and shoot craps to "Kitsie" McLamb, feeling sure this will help her to pass the time more pleasantly.

Article XX. Oscar Atkinson bequeaths and wills his musical ability to Crymes, hoping this will help him to make a success on Broadway.

Article XXI. Their Latin ponies, Margaret Rowland and Mary Lee Foster leave to Mary Herbert Watkins. The same may be found buried in the ground 6 feet,  $3\frac{1}{2}$  inches north, and 2 feet,  $8\frac{3}{4}$  inches west of the senior oak. Of course Professor Ruston must not know of this.

Article XXII. York Brannock leaves the latest steps in dancing to "Bob" Andrews.

Article XXIII. Mamie Sockwell and Bessie Martin leave their subscriptions to the Whiz Bang and Wampus Cat to "Sir Willie."

Article XXIV. Ten yards of "green ribbon" is left to Lemuel Harrell by Margaret Rowland. The said gift is to be used to decorate his personal wardrobe.

Article XXV. Doris McLean and "Dot" Lowe willingly will and bequeath "Bill" and "Chubby" to anyone who will take them.

Article XXVI. Ruby Rowland and Bertha Isley will their vampish ways to Judith Black. She needs them and "knows it's the truth."

Article XXVII. Emory Carter wills his privilege, in the absence of his wife, of adding his personal experiences to all class discussions to Freshman Ruston.

Article XXVIII. An ample supply of hair tonic is left to Morgan Stanley by G. A. Pearce. The directions on the bottle read, "Guaranteed to make hair grow on solid ivory."

Article XXIX. Elder and Denton will and bequeath their electric irons to Joe Bynum. Maybe he will be able to keep his hair in better shape.

Article XXX. Francis McElroy, "Madam President," wills and bequeaths her close association and cooperation with Miss Savage to anyone who will not return to College. "It isn't needed on the hill."

Article XXXI. "Jew Baby" Atkinson and Lillian Harrell bequeath to any love-sick junior the reception halls they have so faithfully used for four years, with the hope that the walls and chairs will not talk.

SECTION III.

To the PHIPSI CLUB editors we bequeath all wornout pen staffs, empty ink wells, left-over stationery, stubby pens, scrap paper, etc. These we generously donate as a starter.

Finally, to avoid painful scenes, we take this opportunity of leaving to all a fond farewell.

SECTION IV.

We do hereby revoke all documents and wills heretofore made, and appoint "John Crawford" to be our executive of this, our last will and testament.

Prophecy of the Class of '25

I should choose a name for this little story, I should possibly call it "The Magic Mirror," but inexorable convention has decreed that it be called "The Prophecy of the Class of 1925." It was one afternoon during the Christmas vacation that the revelation was made to me. I was walking by a tourists' camp when I saw a rapidly moving automobile strike and fatally injure an old Hindoo woman. The camp was deserted save for her, and I carried her into a tent, hoping that I could do something to palliate her suffering, although I saw that she was dying.

She seemed very grateful for what I did, and before she died she placed in my hand a golden object in the shape of a mirror, but it had no glass. She also gave me a stack of very thin glasses, and in a last disconnected sentence told me how to use them. Soon her traveling companions came and took charge of the old member of a race famed for its sorcery, and I returned home, determined to learn the future of my classmates.

"Slip a glass on the frame, wish to know the future of some friend, and you will see it mirrored within the glass," the old Hindoo had said. Somewhat skeptical as to the result, I slipped one of the fragile glasses onto the frame, thinking at the same time of a classmate. Instantly the words, "It floats," appeared. Then I saw J. Newman Denton seated in the office of the advertising manager of the Ivory Soap Company. He had placed the famous slogan in every newspaper in North America.

The glass melted into nothingness. I placed another on the frame, and in it I saw a crowded theater. A large audience was gazing intently at the screen, on which I saw America's two most popular moving picture stars, Clarence Lincoln and Leon Williams, playing the leading rôles in "Well, Who Would'a Thought It?"

"Bill" Terrell's future did not surprise me at all. Combining his practical knowledge of newspapers and his amazing knowledge of womankind, he had become editor of a woman's magazine, "The Comfort."

The next glass revealed a well-equipped beauty parlor which had formerly belonged to Madame Alenskiski. Mamie Sockwell was the new proprietor of the celebrated establishment, and it was patronized by New York's Four Hundred.

Sallie Mae Oliver had acquired fame and fortune as the skilled doctor of several presidents of the United States. Robert W. Utley held the office at that time, and was serving his second term.

The little mirror then reflected the picture of a woman feeding a flock of fine White Leghorn chickens. Doris McLean's domestic proclivities had led her to go into the poultry business, and, although her farm was managed by up-to-date methods, she had her pets, which she cared for herself.

Another picture was one of a company of minstrels, who were worthy rivals of Al G. Field's. Mary Lee Foster was directing the company, which had adopted the name, "Mary's Merry Minstrels."

Framed in the next glass I slipped on was a picture of the Colonial Theater, in Norfolk. The manager of the house had long sought a girl to sell tickets who would not flirt with the men who came to the vaudeville, and finally his search had discovered the staid and steady Bessie Martin, whose quiet dignity at that time graced the window.

I next saw the Governor of Porto Rico. Lillian Harrell's innate tact for managing the destinies of others had secured the appointment for her, and she ruled the little island with sympathetic moderation.

I had always known that Louise Watkins possessed a diplomatic nature, but I was somewhat surprised to learn that she was to be consul to a large city in Czecho-Slovakia.

Ruby Atkinson had been interested in a young aviator, it seemed, and her interest had extended to aviation as well. As a result she was director of the aerial mail route between Europe and America. She made the flying trip regularly in her own plane.

Still another girl in our class had an unusual occupation. Annie Mae Lackey was the heroic lighthouse keeper of the famous Lime Rock Light.

York Brannock, whose propensities directed him to the study of chemistry, had made himself famous by inventing a liquid which would keep artificially curled hair curly during rainy weather.

The next face to appear was that of Ferry Lee Gibbs. Well known for his public speaking throughout his college career, he had finally attracted universal attention by a speech made as president of a hobo convention.

The ambitious Leon Watson, whose unusual ability of spooning had been faithfully practiced on Flon professors for four years, was using this accomplishment to advantage in his work of selling candy and chewing gum.

S. H. Abell was profitably employed in building racing cars for Henry Ford.

I next saw Wellesley College. Having asked for the future of Margaret Rowland, wondered what this college had to do with her, but I soon learned that she was head of its department of aesthetic dancing.

Mary Lee Williams, the stylish little miss whom I remembered as always being attractively dressed, was owner of a mode shop in Paris, supplying from her store of expensive gowns the elite of Paris society.

The next picture I saw was one of a courtroom. Here the juvenile court judge, Ruby Rowland, meted out punishment to Chicago's youthful miscreants.

I then saw a large steamship moving gracefully across an ocean. The chaplain, loved by every sailor on board, was Clifton Elder. When his old fondness for the admiration of women overcame him, he stopped off for a few days to breathe, with dark-eyed beauties, the romantic atmosphere created by the alluring palm trees of the South Sea islands.

The matter-of-fact E. E. Snoterly was the efficient private secretary to the owner of the Amalgamated Transcontinental Lightning Speed Bus Lines, Inc.

Kate Strader, who was always talented in the use of patterns, scissors, and the like, was, according to the little mirror, a designer for the National Cloak and Suit Company, and in her spare time did similar work for Sears and Roebuck.

Chiyo Ito went home to her own country, only to return to America as an ambassador from Japan.

Oscar Atkinson's fate was the next to be revealed. I had expected to see him settled in a physics lab or law office, but, instead, he was making millions by giving dancing lessons over the radio.

Everyone thought Dorothy Lowe would teach. She didn't. She became rich and widely known by her translation into French of a new collection of fairy tales written by Thelma Cates. Thelma was working on another volume.

Bertha Isley appeared, surrounded by a large group of little children. She called them "my dears," but they really belonged to many different parents, in San Francisco, who had sent them to the kindergarten.

When Jesse Dollar, one of Twenty-five's two married members, was mirrored in the little glass, he was reading in a magazine a review of his famous sermon, entitled "Jiggs, the Greatest Martyr," in which he had given reasons for a hen-pecked husband's assurance of heaven.

Only one member of the class had been caught in Cupid's snares. Olyn Barrett married a fabulously rich Italian count, and was living in a magnificent Venetian palace. Although at times she longed for home, the happy hours flew by so rapidly that each time she turned around she saw a Dago.

Nettie Harris, believing that one soon tires of the opposite sex, and that life is too short for any part of it to be spent with an uncongenial mate, was living in Reno, Nevada, and had granted more divorces than any judge who had ever held the office.

Having inherited a fortune from a wealthy kinsman, H. L. Isley decided to try doubling it by a gamble with the New York Stock Exchange. The venture was successful, and he is now spending his time and money bettering conditions in the slums of that city.

G. A. Pearce, having tired of barber work, teaching, and preaching, was playing a black-face part with Keith's Vaudeville.

It did not surprise me to learn that Frances McElroy was a celebrated cartoonist. I immediately recalled the pictures I had seen her draw in her text-books when she was bored during a recitation.

The scene of the next picture was the wilds of Africa. A man, surrounded by half-naked little Africans, was walking along with a careless, swinging stride which seemed familiar. As he came nearer I saw that the well-loved missionary was Archie Braxton.

Then, wonderingly, I saw a large crowd, with its intense gaze riveted on a speaker, evidently speaking with power to convince. Mr. Carter had turned Socialist, and his long experience as a pulpit orator gave him added self-confidence and ability of effective expression in his new profession.

Margaret "Bob" Corbitt was a radium specialist. She had used this powerful substance to run steamships, grind coffee, remove warts from cucumbers before pickling, sweep carpets and rock cradles. It is rumored that she is planning to run Niagara Falls backward.

Wellons Dunn took advantage of the demands of the American populace and profited. He has bought out all the weiner stands in New York, and now if you want a weiner while in the city, you can see almost anywhere a sign which reads, "Dunn's Hot Dogs, Inc."

The last glass disappeared as the others, and the old Hindoo had told no one how to make any more. The fire flickered and went out; I held in my hand a useless mirror, as I now hold prophecy which may never come true.

Senior Class Poem

*Comrade, tarry ye here and rest
A little, ere our last adieu.
Our journey's foothills we have passed,
The mountain peak of hope looms near.
The climb, rugged and rough has been,
Yet vistas grand, all tinged with blue,
Have now and then burst into view.
They have revived our drooping hopes.
Then courage, comrades—onward we
Our upward, winding way pursue
Till achievement crowns the Class of '25.*

*A path of peace and roses we,
Of course, by stream and lake, would tread;
But roads that lead to worthy goals
Upward wind to mountain heights, instead.
We still go on, the end in view.
Our yesterdays, to time bequeath;
Our tomorrows, to laurel and wreath.
Each hour we spend, a stepping-stone.
Thus, up and up, we higher mount,
Nearer and nearer the lights above.*

*We've traveled o'er the rocky road
With friends and pals our hearts to cheer,
And ever worked gladly together;
But now, the time of parting's near;
So now, instead of one safe road,
With everywhere a faithful guide,
We see a million thoroughfares,
All enchanted, crowded and wide.
Soon each will take a different road,
A different duty to perform.*

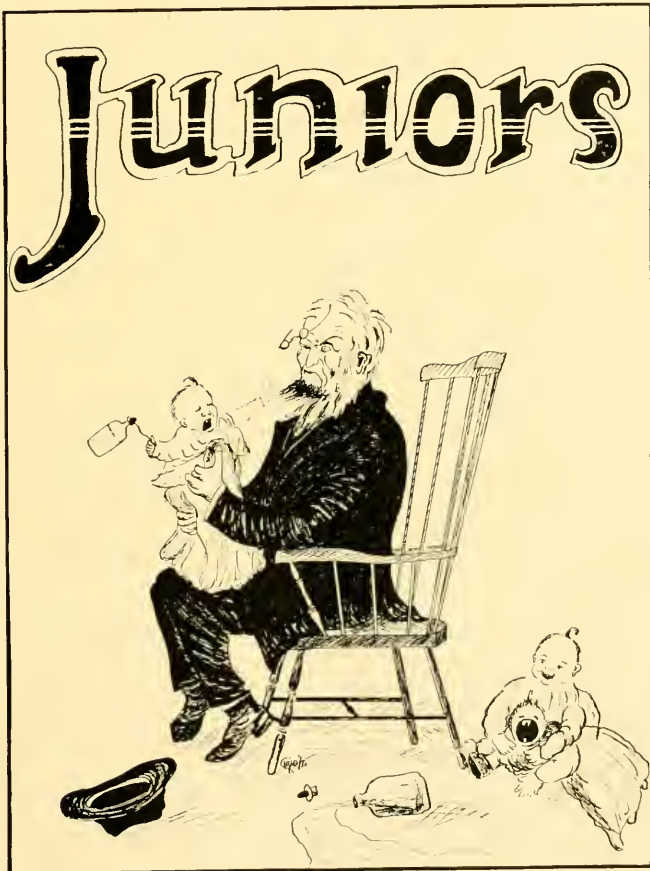

*On the way we shall tread, alone, our paths
May often cross, may sometimes meet.
If so be, with ardent friendship
Gladly we shall one another greet.
We'll conjure up days departed;
We'll laugh again of joys of yore;
The fun we'd known before, fresh cheer
Each sad and drooping spirit will give;
In memory's bright page will live
The joys that bring us here today.*

Junior Class History

AFTER the usual opening of Elon, the formal reception by the faculty, the informal reception by the sophomores, and the two months of readjustment to college life, we, the Class of '26, organized under our banner of blue and gold, and forth we started, one hundred and twenty-six strong, representing the greenness of many states and three countries.

Under the leadership of Lemuel Harrell as president, we carried off the honors in basketball and literary work.

It was but a brief interval of time before we assumed the rôle of "the wise sophomore." During this year fate was unkind, and our rivals carried off most of the honors, but we grinned and bore it as best we could, hoping for better luck next year.

When we returned as juniors we discovered that many had fallen by the wayside. Matrimony, the business world, and other colleges had each claimed its toll, leaving with us thirty-nine. Our freshman luck seemed to have returned, and again we claimed the basketball championship. There is yet work to be done, and loyalty to our motto, "We can, we will," will enable us to attain still greater success.

Junior Class Poem

*We've stored them up—one by one;
The gladsome joys, the tears, the fun.*

*Mem'ries! We have put them away;
Garnered are they so safely up,
Where they may serve in the day of gloom,
Yet where naught can stain or corrupt.*

*The future years new joys will bring
To hearts wherein these mem'ries sing
Of youth, dear friends, and love and dreams,
'Till mem'ry's vault shall hold for each
The richness of the mind's esteem
Like opals found upon the beach.*

*We've stored them up—one by one;
The gladsome joys, the tears, the fun.*

Sophomore Class History

T was in the fall of 1923 that Elon College first saw the faces of one hundred and six verdant freshmen. Matriculation was accomplished in the usual way. The workings of the mystic courses were expounded. Also the sophomores explained a few things to us in their own forceful way. On November first we organized, electing Howard Richardson for our president. We were represented in every line of sports and won the interclass championship in basketball. We also won the freshman-sophomore debate.

Examinations came and went, leaving us a little smaller, though a better and wiser class, for, behold, we were sophomores! This year we chose for our leader Robert Hook. We fulfilled our duty of greeting the freshmen on their arrival and have since given several parties in their honor. (Ask them!)

In the class basketball series of '24-'25 we won from the freshmen and seniors, but lost to the juniors.

We are well launched into college work now. Whatever happens, we expect to see it through—see it as this poet sees it:

"We may fail, but fall still fighting—
We won't give up, whate'er we do;
Eyes front, head high, to the finish,
See it through!"

HISTORIAN.

Freshman Class Poem

We're beginning an uncertain sailing
On seas quite uncharted, yet blue,
But we know that hard work is availing,
And our purpose, a compass that's true.
We have chosen our pilot to steer us,
And our flag is of "lavender and gold."
We are making straight for midocean,
And an unwavering course we will hold.

There will be times when travel is easy;
There will be times when travel is rough;
When defeat's crushing demons assail us
We will answer each sneering rebuff.
With a courage that ne'er shall be daunted,
Our crew all together will stand,
And dark storms of the voyage we'll weather
Until safely we're anchored on land.

There are some who will leave our good vessel
Before the last lap is in sight,
But with those left to anchor it safely
Will be the fine spirit of "flight."
We'll pass Junior and Sophomore Islands,
And then there is an open, blue sea,
With an enchanted mist in the distance,
Where the port we are seeking must be.

History of the Freshman Class

The activities of the Freshman Class have been varied. It is true that for the first few weeks they were unusually lively, but that was in response to external stimuli. Then the struggle was for personal and class recognition. Fortunately, only a few failed in the first round. And with the beginning of the new semester, there were many resolutions for better grades. Contrary to expectations, many of these were kept.

Now a new light is seen—the Class of '28 looms as one of the record classes in the history of the college. There have been more varsity men from this Freshman Class than ever before. In the many college activities, members of the Freshman Class have written their names in indelible characters. Yet all has not been smooth sailing; we, the pride of the prep schools; we, the haughty high school graduates; we, the Class of '28, have been duly humbled. Indeed, we have learned our lessons. As we approach the end, we look back over our days of foolishness; we see the error of our ways; we appreciate the lessons we have learned. We believe that we are well on the road to understanding, and think that we are sufficiently able to undertake the delicate task of bringing up the next year's "freshies."

The first year is merely a testing, and those who can successfully stand the test will be those upon whom will be focused expectations of a successful four year's record.

Coach Frank B. Corboy

For five years Mr. Corboy has been the athletic mentor at Elon. He came to us with an untold high school record. He proved a great athlete, and leaves behind at the University of Pittsburgh a wonderful record. Prior to his coming here, Mr. Corboy coached football in Altoona, Pa., one season, and football in Georgia one season. Since his arrival here, and under his mentorship, the teams have won much praise, and won for themselves a name, "The Fighting Christians," one that will live longer than the college, and one that the teams are proud of. We are indeed fortunate to have Mr. Corboy as head coach of athletics at Elon.

Captain John C. Whitesell, Tackle

"Red" was one of Elon's greatest tackles. He always gave his best, in every way, to the team. When he fought, he fought hard and fair. This was his fourth and greatest year of service—his best, also. Elon sincerely mourned his loss—the gratitude and thanks of the entire student body were given to him when he left.

Football Squad

First Row: YORK BRANNOCK, W. S. ALEXANDER, PAUL McNEIL, W. A. LINDLEY, HOWARD RICHARDSON, ALTON BRINKLEY, WILLIAM SMITH, DAN LONG NEWMAN, JOSEPH DARLINGTON, DAN WICKER, LACY EZELL, LEON WILLIAMS, ARCHIE FARMER, T. R. DEANS, WILLIARD CARDWELL.

Second Row: ARCHIE BRAXTON, JOHN WHITESELL, E. W. McCAULEY, E. L. PARKERSON, D. L. HARRELL, FORREST SWANSON, CLIFTON ELDER, COACH F. B. CORBOY.

Third Row: CONRAD DONNELL, CHARLIE WALKER, DARDEN JONES, JOHNNIE LANSFORD, BYNUM PHILLIPS, ROBERT BYRD, DWIGHT BEOUGHIER, A. N. GREEN, C. M. HAWN, THOMAS LOWERY, FRANK ALEXANDER, FERDINAND BELLO.

ARCHIE BRAXTON, Center

Elon's greatest pivot is "Brack." He is known as "Satan" on the football field, and his opponents believe him to be all the name implies. He is one of those people who never gives up, nor ever stops fighting. For three years he has had a regular berth with the varsity. He will be back next year as captain, and we are looking forward with great eagerness to his spectacular and successful playing.

E. M. McCAULEY, Right Guard

"Mack" held down the position of guard. He stopped the opposition like a brick wall, and was a "holy terror" to 'em. When changed to center to relieve "Brack," "Mack" always proved dependable. We're expecting great things from this lad from Oak Ridge. "Mack" is a "Noble" player.

W. CLIFTON ELDER, End

"Cliff" Elder, whether used as end or back-field, was a fast, determined player, a fighter of the highest type. This is his second year as a "letter" man. During this time "Cliff" has made marked improvement. It is a great pleasure to see "Cliff" tackle an opponent. We hope to see him return next year.

WILLARD CARDWELL, Right Tackle

"Little Willie" was shifted this year from guard to tackle, and he surely proved worthy of the "shift." He was one of the most savage tackles that ever donned Maroon and Gold uniform. He was always found in the thickest of the fray. May he conquer life with the same ease he conquered on the football field.

D. L. HARRELL, Quarterback

The trusty toe of this lad is always dependable. As quarterback "Lem" keeps a cool head, even in times of danger. He runs his team with much skill and ease. Often did his toe kick his team out of danger. His line-plunging is like pile-driving. "Lem" always portrays the fighting spirit.

ROBERT BYRD, Halfback

This is "Ambitious'" first year with the "fighting Christians." But, to all who know him and to those who have seen him play, he is a "fleet-footed" halfback. Winning ends seems to be his hobby. After "Lem" was hurt, it was the toe of this "Byrd" that oftentimes kicked the warriors out of danger. Catching the Elon spirit as he has, and having three more years ahead of him, we are sure he will become one of the scrappiest, pluckiest, and fastest halfbacks in the state.

DWIGHT BEOUGHER, Right End

Dwight always gives his best. He is a flashy, fast player who causes his opponent much trouble. He is the stuff when it comes to snagging the old "pigskin" from the air. Here's hoping that Dwight will be back next fall, bringing with him his same ability really to play the game.

HOWARD RICHARDSON, Quarterback

Though small in stature, Howard managed our team with the ease and skill of a general. He could buck a line, run end, and we could always rely on him for a drop-kick. He always kept the enemy guessing.

D. W. JONES, Guard

You might as well try to pass through a stone wall as try to pass Darden. He shows true "Virginian fighting spirit" combined with "Eloa spirit" when playing the game. We are expecting great things from you, old scout—live up to 'em!

E. L. PARKERSON, Halfback

Though crippled and sick most of the season, Parkerson exhibits real fighting spirit. Notwithstanding many bruises, he stood faithfully by his team. He was always used as end runner and passer. His return next fall will be looked forward to by all.

FRANK ALEXANDER, Fullback

Frank hails from Indiana, a demon at hitting the line, and as an end runner, he is a most welcome addition to the team. In every skirmish, Frank is sure to be present. May his future college career fulfill the promise of this, his freshman year! He will surely do his fourth of the work, and more, to make the team.

W. C. SMITH, End

"Duck" was a flashy end, who, in spite of his "age" and short stature, was quite able to relieve Elder and Beougher when necessary. He will make a splendid end for next fall.

PAUL MCNEIL, Halfback

"Mac" hails from Texas, and is one of our best substitutes. He can plunge a line, circle an end, and his hobby is "trick playing." He is sure to succeed.

DAN LONG NEWMAN, Halfback

Dan just began to get started as the season closed. At the rate he was improving it was certain he will become a splendid player. His ability to use the old southpaw in barring passes, with Elder and Beougher to receive them, became a menace to the opposing team. His side-stepping, running, and passing are greatly needed for next year.

F. SWANSON, Guard

"Glory," as he was known on the field, comes to us from the mountains of North Carolina. When at home he always whipped a wildcat every morning before breakfast. His opponents fully believed this to be true, for his every move was like that. Swanson is one of those persons who is blessed with "action, not words."

ALTON BRINKLEY, Halfback

We hope people will not judge "Dutch's" ability to play football by his size. If they do, they are doomed to be terribly disappointed. No man is ever too large for "Dutch" to tackle, and he is like a barbed wire entanglement to get by.

ARCHIE FARMER, Tackle

When "Little Willie" or "Red" needed help, they always called on Archie. He was always found across in the enemy's territory, and no one ever knew "how," but soon found out "why" he was there! He was great at breaking up plays.

LOOKING WEST FROM EAST ENTRANCE

Basketball Squad

First Row: ALTON BRINKLEY, OSCAR ATKINSON, DAN LONG NEWMAN.

Second Row: ROBERT BYRD, THOMAS HUEY, CLARENCE CRUTCHFIELD, ELWOOD PARKERSON, ARTHUR FOWLER, PAUL CADELL.

Third Row: PAUL MCNEIL, PAUL WALKER, C. P. THOMPSON, J. L. FOSTER, JR., FRANK ALEXANDER, COACH E. B. CORBOY.

ROBERT BYRD, Forward

Byrd came to us from Mount Olive High School, a product of Coach Perry, an old Elon basketball star. This is his first year on the team. Byrd is an accurate shot from most any part of the floor, and also a good defensive player. With three more years ahead, we are expecting a great service from you on the court.

C. J. CRUTCHFIELD, Center

"Tobe," his name derived from some unknown source, held the position at center of the "fighting Christians" squad, and was found very effective there. His opponents often wondered how he did it. We are expecting you back next year, and hope that season will be even greater than this one.

DAN LONG NEWMAN, Captain-elect, Forward

Dan is a forward, playing his first year on the team. His ability to cage the ball from most any angle of the court, and, whenever he wanted to, with his left hand, proved a terror to the opponents on the floor. Dan won for himself the name "Hawk-Eye," and his ability proved his name just. He was elected captain of the next season team, and with "Hawk-Eye" as pilot, a championship team is expected.

PAUL CADDELL, Guard

"Pill" is a product of Elon High School. This is his first year on the team. He is a good defensive man, and when he once sets to shoot, you can count the goal. He plays a clean game, fights hard, and his sure shots prove trouble for the opposition. You have three more years, and we are expecting to see your name in the all-state line-up before your career ends.

T. V. HUEY, *Forward

This was "Tom's" first year on the team. He was determined to make a regular, and before the season ended, Tom was found with a regular berth. His determination and fighting spirit, along with his ability to cage the ball from the middle of the court, was an inspiration to the team. One more year awaits you—make it a successful one.

OSCAR ATKINSON, *Forward

Oscar was the only letter man back this year. He is a good forward, very fast on the floor, and proved an asset to the team. He plays as well defensively as offensively. This is Oscar's last year, and he leaves the Elon gymnasium a true example of the fighting Christian manhood.

FRANK ALEXANDER, *Guard

Frank was a floor worker. He gave the best he had all the time. He is a good guard, and is a speed merchant, and things are expected of him next year.

E. L. PARKERSON, *Guard

Parkerson was not a regular on the team, but before most of the games were over, Parkerson was found in the game. He plays the floor well, and is a staunch guard. You have one more year ahead of you. We are expecting you to make this a successful one.

1925 Baseball

Spring opened with the call for baseball issued by Coach Corboy. About thirty-five men reported for practice. Among the candidates for the famous sport, only four are letter men. With a new team in view, it is hard to predict the outcome of the season. Jimmie Fogleman, a veteran southpaw of two seasons, who has been out of school for a year, is back. We are confident and sure that he will be an inspiration to the team. Fogleman, Fowler, Donnell and Dollar are likely to be the men to constitute the pitching staff, while Farmer and Lankford are showing up well behind the bat.

Lindley, Allen Walker, and Gilliam, three letter men, are back and showing still better form at their regular infield berths. Among the new men who are making a good showing in the infield are Byrd, Slaughter, and Fred Caddell. Great competition and ability is being displayed in the outfield by Paul Walker, Paul Caddell, C. J. and H. E. Cruthfield. A strong outfield is expected from these new men. The prospects for the season are fair, however not as bright as we would like for them to be, but through the hard practice and coaching of Coach Corboy, we are expecting a good club.

Who's Who

BEING assured that the popularity contest was conducted with considerable pull, and knowing that it is not incorporative enough, full of errors, voted by ignorant freshmen, et cetera, we, at the fervent insistence of our numerous and dependable friends, herewith attach the facts in their true colors. I expect no reward for this authentic contribution than the gratitude from those who are honored by this due publicity.

Dr. Lawrence: "Why are you unprepared, Mr. Johnson?"

Pussyfoot: "I am prepared; you said read 'Twelfth Night' or 'What You Will,' so I read 'The Beautiful and Tamed.'"

The inquisitive old lady was bending over the bed of a wounded soldier, whose head was swathed with cotton and linen. "Were you wounded in the head, my boy?" she asked. "No," came a faint reply, "I was shot in the foot, and the bandage slipped up."

Rainey: "What on earth are you wearing all those coats for?"

Darden: "Well, I'm going to paint the tank, and the directions on the paint can say, for best results, put on three coats."

"My kingdom for a horse!" said Mr. Abell, as he picked up his Cicero.

Dr. Harper: "You don't? My dear sir, I'm afraid you're not the man we want to write our advertisements."

First Maid: "How did you like working for that college professor?"

Second Maid: "Aw, it was rotten. He was all the time quarreling with his wife, and they kept me busy running from the keyhole to the dictionary."

Prof. Martin: "Take the first 47 pages."

Mary Herbert: "What book do we take up next week, professor?"

Mary Lee Williams (in Domestic Science laboratory): "Oh, dear, the cake is burning and I can't take it out for five minutes yet!"

"Gee, but I need a shave," said Dr. Brannock, as he looked in his hairbrush and thought it was his hand mirror.

Soph: "What are you so happy about?"

Fresh: "Oh, they're going to let me go to the Student Council tonight, and I'm not even a member."

Judge: "What did you strike the telegraph operator for?"

Fresh: "Well, your honor, I handed him a telegram for my girl and he started reading it, so I just naturally lit in."

Any old fool can go to bed; it takes a man to get up.

It was a sleepy sort of a day, the class was about half the usual size, and the professor was calling the roll in a half absent way. To each name someone had answered "here," until the name Newman was called. Silence reigned for a moment, to be broken by the professor's voice: "My word! Hasn't Newman any friends here?"

Dr. Amick: "Mr. Greene, do you know the meaning of the word 'work'?"

Britt: "Sure, Dr. Amick—you working cross-word puzzles, too?"

Fable: Once upon a time there was an honest dirt farmer who owned a genuine antique. He refused to sell it.

"Are you laughing at me?" asked Prof. Martin.

"No," came the answer in chorus.

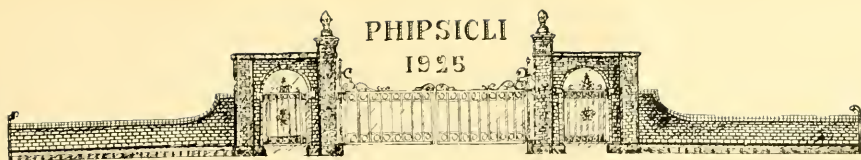

"Well," insisted the professor, "what else is there in the room to laugh at?"

Miss Savage: "When my car skidded, my heart came right up in my throat."

Adelia: "Hope you didn't chip any of your teeth on it."

Prof.: "This is the third time you've looked on Jones' paper."

Student: "Yes, sir—he doesn't write very plainly."

Dr. Harper had written on the back of a theme, "Please write more legibly."

Senior (next day): "Dr. Harper, what is this you put on my essay?"

* * *

"Yes, I have two boys at Elon."

"And what is their yell?"

"Money, money, money."

* * *

Mrs. Harper: "Are you the plumber?"

Vickers: "Yes, mum."

Mrs. Harper: "Well, see that you exercise care when doing your work. All my floors are highly polished and in perfect condition."

Vickers: "Oh, don't you worry 'bout me slipping. I've got nails in my boots."

* * *

Prof. Bennett (to his wife): "Look out and see if that tire isn't flat."

Mrs. Bennett: "No, it isn't."

Prof. Bennett: "Are you sure?"

Mrs. Bennett: "Absolutely. It's a little flat on the bottom, but it's all right everywhere else."

* * *

Professor: "My boy, your work has fallen down, and if you are going to pick it up, you'll have to step on it."

The Freshman Bible

The Red Book is my leader; I shall not err. It maketh me to lie down on straw mattresses; it maketh me to dodge the thrown waters. It restoreth my conduct; it leadeth me on the paths of concrete for its rules sake. Yea, though I walk through the halls of the shadows of Sophs, I will fear much evil; their boards and their paddles, they annoy me. They prepare a chair before me in the presence of mine enemies; they blister my body with paddles; my tears run over. Surely revenge and joy shall follow me all the days of my life, for I shall dwell in the house of the Sophs next year.

CHAPTER II.

Though I obey with the obedience of Sophomores and Seniors, and abide not by the Red Book, I am become as an outlaw, or a robber. And though I have the gift of the catalogue, and understand all courses, and all professors; and though I have all power, so that I could pass examinations, and have not read the Red Book, I am nothing. And though I bestow all my time to cram the brain, and though I give my body to be burned (with a paddle), and know not the Red Book, it profiteth me nothing. The Red Book includeth all, and is drastic; it wavereth not; it weakeneth not itself, is unimpaired, doth often behave itself unseemly, seeketh much its own, is not easily evaded, containeth much evil. Rejoiceth not in laxity, but rejoiceth in strictness. Containeth all things, nameth all things, predicteth all things, awaiteth all things. The Red Book never faileth; but whether there be catalogues, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall prevaricate; whether there be announcements, they shall vanish away. For we know as a Freshman, and we prophesy as a Freshman. But when that Sophomorehood is come, then that which is Fresh shall be done away. When I was a Prep, I spake as a Prep, I understood as a Prep, I thought as a Prep; and when I became a Freshman, I kept up Prepish things. For now we see through a glass darkly, but then chair to chair: now I know as a Freshman, but then I shall paddle even as also I am paddled. And now abideth the Student Senate, the Student Council, the Red Book, these three; but the greatest of these is the Red Book.

HE'S SO DUMB

He thinks a dry dock is one who refuses to give prescriptions.

He thinks Dublin, Ireland, makes it twice as large.

He thinks Seattle, Wash., one of George's descendants.

He thinks drawing paper is a mustard plaster.

He thinks plug tobacco is made for horses.
He thinks the epistles are the wives of the apostles.

Mary Lee: "Wonderfully! He carried on like a wild man."
